BASEBALL SQUAD IN PRACTICE GAME

Capt. Davis Puts Men Through Strenuous Workout—Hamilton Plays Strong Yellow and Black Team at Rochester April 29

After three weeks of indoor practice caused by cold weather, the baseball team just finished a week of outdoor training. The work of coaching the men has been in the hands of Coach Prettyman, Larry Crane, one of the best ball players in this section of the state, and Captain Davis. Since the new diamond is not in condition for playing, the squad has been practicing on the Clinton ball field. The training so far has consisted of batting and fielding practice and other light work-outs. When the call for candidates was issued, there were only four of last year's letter men to report. These were Captain Davis, catcher, C. Warren, pitcher, Hunter, second base, and Meehan, third base. Besides these men, many of last year's second team, and a large number of new candidates responded to the call.

On Saturday the squad was divided into two sections, the Hounds and the Houndlets, and a full length game was played, which the Hounds won by the score of 17 to 8. The first half of the game was very close, Perry allowing only five hits in six innings and Loomis giving only five hits in as many innings. The Clinton field is in poor condition and, as a result, many errors were made by both teams. In the sixth inning Towne took Loomis' place in the box and was nicked by the Hounds for nine hits and thirteen runs in three innings. Marks, who was substituted for Perry, allowed only two hits in three frames, but five runs were scored by the Houndlets due to errors. The line up and summary of Saturday's game follows:

GLEE AND INSTRUMENTAL CLUBS GIVE ROME CONCERT

New Selection Introduced—Performance Varied and Pleasing to Appreciative Audience

The Musical Clubs again proved their ability at the concert given in Rome last Friday evening, April 7. This concert, which was held in Hazelton Hall, or the Y. M. C. A. Biulding, as it is called, drew a rather small but very appreciative audience It was given under the auspices of the Athletic Association of the Rome Free Academy.

The Glee Club opened with "We Come to Hang Our Banners" and "Fair Hamilton", both of which were well liked by the audience. "Can You Forget", "April Showers", and "Sweet Lady" were next rendered by the Instrumental Club and proved very popular. Then followed a vocal solo by A. R. Thompson, '25, and a violin solo by Carl Riedel, '24. These were the favorite numbers of the first part of the program and were enthusiastically applauded. The Glee Club next sang "The Clang of the Forge" and "Thy Sons Will Ne'er Forget Thee' in a very effective manner.

Part Two opened with the "Big Guns": Messrs, Langtry, Fitch, Bates, and Bingham, who drew a hearty response. Equally popular proved to be the Glee Club's next offering, "The Winter Song" and "Mammy's Lullaby." The Instrumental Club then followed with "Ty-Tee" and "Kalua", both of which drew an enthusiastic response. The next number, the "Eternal Triangle" of Messrs. Macey, Dowdell and Bates was also well received. Leader Langtry of the Instrumental Club then varied the usual program by introducing "How Many Times." This number proved highly popular, and as encore, the Club played the well-known "Wabash Blues." The Quartette, Messrs. Burns, Macey, Moore and Thompson, sang several numbers including "Annie Laurie." The concert closed with the singing of "Carissima."

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL MEETING HELD

Several Amendments to Constitution Drawn Up for Undergraduate Approval—Soccer Team Receives Appropriation

A meeting of the executive council was held on April 6, 1922, in Silliman Hall. Reports were heard from all the managers of undergraduate activities and several amendments were proposed, subject to the approval of the Undergraduate Association.

The following amendment to Article II, C, concerning the election of managers, was proposed:

1. The managers and assistant managers of all activities under the control of the Association for Undergraduate Activities shall, by an open ballot of the Executive Council, be elected from the nominations made in order of preference by the acting managers of the respective departments.

2. The election shall be held only after a discussion, between the members of the executive council and the acting manager of the department concerned regarding the merits of the choice of nominees made by that manager.

3. The occasion for the election shall be the first meeting of the Executive Council directly following the close of the season of the department concerned.

4. No candidate for assistant manager may be nominated who is a member of the same fraternity as either the manager or the assistant manager.

Amendment to Article II, D, concerning the basis for the nomination for candidates:

1. The acting manager shall base his choice of nominees for managers and assistant managers of all activities under the control of the Association for Undergraduate Activities upon the following considerations:

a. Manual labor exclusive of any routine duties which may be delegated to men employed by the college for that purpose.

b. Opportunities granted to the candidate to display his managerial abilities, such opportunites to be given by the active managers in the form of tests, oral or written, at the option of the manager.

These above amendments are to be voted upon this morning after Chapel by the members of the Association for Undergraduate Activities.

Manager Bennett of this past season's successful hockey team submitted his report for the season and showed expenditures of $1743.24 and receipts of $894.57. The hockey apportionment for the year was $925. A unanimous vote of thanks was tendered to Manager Bennett for his efforts in securing Hamilton's entrance into the Intercollegiate Hockey League.

George Monaghan, '22, submitted a preliminary report for the past basketball season. The Executive Council went on record as not opposed to having intercollegiate basketball games scheduled previous to the Christmas vacation with the provision that it would not interfere with the football season.

Manager Allison, '24, was granted an apportionment of $100 for the use of the soccer team for spring games.

MUSICAL CLUBS TO MAKE EASTER TRIP

New York Concert to be Held in Waldorf-Astoria Hotel—Ridgewood and Jamaica Included in Itinerary

Manager George of the Musical Clubs has practically completed arrangements for the Easter tour during the spring vacation. Only one engagement, Monday, April 17, is still pending, but without doubt will be filled in a day or two. Two cancellation of three dates on the western trip made it necessary to give up that plan this year. The Syracuse concert, however, will be given on Friday, the 28th, under the auspices of the Hamilton alumni association of Syracuse. There is also a possibility of two more concerts in that week.

On Tuesday, the 18th, the clubs will play at Kingston in the High School, under the auspices of the athletic association and the Prisma society of the school, and on the following night at the Irving School at Tarrytown.

Thursday, April 20, is the date of the annual appearance in New York City, the biggest concert of the season. The performance will be given this year at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, in the Astor Gallery suite. Norman J. Marsh, '14, a former manager of the Musical Clubs, is managing the New York end of the concert, as he has done for the past two years.

The Ridgewood engagement is on Friday, the 21st. The Clubs are being brought to Ridgewood by Harry Taylor, '00. The final engagement of the trip is scheduled for Saturday, the 22nd, at Jamaica. It is through the efforts of the Hamilton alumni and Mr. Albert A. Thompson, father of Watson and Russell Thomspon, of this college, that the latter date was made possible.

The program that will be used on the Easter trip will be practically the same as the one used at the Utica concert.

HAMILTON PETITIONS DELTA SIGMA RHO

Alfange, '22, Will Attend Convention of Debating Fraternity in Iowa City

A few of the college debaters, who have participated in intercollegiate contests, have organized a body which will petition Delta Sigma Rho for a chapter at Hamilton. Dean Alfange, '22, captain of the debate team, has been selected to represent the petitioning group at the next convention of the society which will be held at Iowa City sometime in May. This will make the second attempt made by Hamilton to gain admittance to the honorary debating fraternity. Franklin Fry, of the class if '21, attended the convention at Boston two years ago, and presented the petition. At that time Harvard and most of the larger eastern colleges were in favor of granting the charter to Hamilton, but opposition was found among some of the western colleges which were then unacquainted with Hamilton's record in intercollegiate debating and public speaking, and cast their votes adversely. It is the belief of Captain Alfange that the prospects of obtaining a chapter here are of the best.

Delta Sigma Rho, an honorary forensic society, was organized at Chi-

COLLEGE ELECTS Y. M. C. A. OFFICIALS

R. Hawley Fitch Will Be President for Coming Year—Work of Outgoing Administration Reviewed

The annual election of officers of the Y. M. C. A. was held last Friday morning at a meeting of the student body after chapel. The balloting resulted in the choice of the following men as officers for the coming year: President, R. Hawley Fitch, '23; treasurer, Paul S. Olver, '24; secretary, Phillip G. Scott, '25. These men are all experienced in "Y" work, having been active members of the organization before and since entering college. The election of R. H. Fitch to the presidency comes as a tribute to the excellent record which he has made as a "Y" official during the past two years. Since his freshman year the new president has been prominently identified with the Y. M. C. A. cabinet and his election assures capable and vigorous direction for the ensuing year.

The retiring administration can look back upon a year of highly creditable achievement under the presidency of Gordon G. Kibler, '22. The efforts of Mr. Kibler and his cabinet have been marked with the best of success. For the first time in years the Blue Book was issued at the opening of the college year. It was edited this year by President-elect Fitch. With the exception of the first two or three weeks of college, movies have been shown in Commons Hall every Saturday night of the year. The contract with the distributors has now expired and the last show was given last Saturday night. The movies this year have been of a much higher grade than in previous seasons and as a result the attendance has been nearly doubled. Formerly, movie films were secured on financial backing advanced by the college store, but the cabinet this year took all the risk, its members furnishing the capital necessary for obtaining the contract with the distributor. Howland, '22, chairman of the entertainment committee, deserves commendation for his work in that capacity. The thanks of the organization are extended to Dr. S. J. Saunders for his invaluable assistance at times when the operators found difficulty in making the movie projector function properly.

Along social and religious lines the "Y" has greatly extended its work. Representatives have been actively engaged in vicinity work in Utica, Clinton and Kirkland. Every Sunday during the year two men have plodded through mud and snow to England where church and Sunday School services have been attended with excellent success. Two Bible classes have regularly met after chapel every Sunday. The cooperation and direction of Dr. Fitch and Dr. Wood have been largely responsible for the sustained interest that has been shown in these classes.

Silliman Hall has shown itself to be a meeting-place and social center for all students. At various times speakers have given addresses to student groups under the auspices of the "Y"; the Newman and "M. M." clubs have also held their meetings there. Next year it is planned to have speakers appear here with addresses on a wide range of subjects.

Two Generations.

A prominent metropolitan daily recently contained an editorial commenting on the fact that the Phi Beta Kappa key was no longer as eagerly sought after by college students as in former years. It pointed to the action of a Vassar senior in refusing the honor and to the expressed conviction of a majority of Yale's senior class that a "Y" was infinitely preferable to a key as evidence that the present college generation had a different outlook on life and studies in general than had their fathers. Undoubtedly there has been a radical change of opinion among the students of today. What are the reasons for this change?

In the first place, the idea seems to prevail among Hamilton undergraduates at least that the possession of the little gold key indicates mental keenness but practical dullness on the part of the wearer. Many men feel that no one can concentrate thoroughly enough on his studies to get a key, and, at the same time, take part in the extra-curriculum activities of the college. These same activities have come to occupy an important position in undergraduate life. The ever- increasing interest in athletics is not particularly conducive to intensive application to study. Neither is the practice of having freshman competition for undergraduate managerships, a condition recently changed for the better by action of the Executive Council.

Many of the older alumni are sometimes impatient at the present-day tendency of emphasizing this larger side of college life at the expense of a strict attention to curriculum requirements. Perhaps they do not realize to what an extent conditions on the Hill have changed. Thirty years ago students came to Hamilton for four years of intensive, mental training. They had little to take their minds from their work since athletics were imperfectly developed and possessing little official connection with the college and undergraduate publications few in number. Today all is changed. Competition for various teams is keen, much care and time becombination. There are now four pubing expended to turn out a winning lication boards which attract men with some talent for writing. The Musical Clubs, the Charlatans, the various managerships, in fact every college activitiy, large or small, requires careful attention and hard work. As a consequence, fewer men find time to maintain a high scholarship rating.

This condition exists not only at Hamilton, but in practically every college and university in the country. Whether or not it is for the best is a debatable question. If experience shows that the present-day theory of undergraduate life is wrong, there will probably be a noticeable reaction towards the older system.

About Lit.

It has come to be the general thing to speak of the Hamilton Literary Magazine with some ridicule. It has not descended to the depths in which we find Hoboken or Podunk, but no one is at any pains to avoid laughing at it. We feel that this is a wrong attitude for several reasons.

In the first place, Lit is the only medium which Hamilton offers by which men interested in writing may present their efforts before a public. Lit in this respect offers a position parallel to the chapel stage which most of us malign but which most of us come to appreciate. The man in college who feels any urge to write always feels that he would like to submit his material to someone for an opinion. He wants an audience. Lit fulfils this need.

In the second place Lit is not as bad as some would have us believe. There are men in college who write as well as anyone would expect of a man of similar experience. None of us has been down into the depths of Hell or poised himself on the high pinnacle of fame and success. None of us has run the gamut of human emotions. None of us is prepared to present a tragedy of life. But many of us like to write—and what we most like to write, we write best. The principal requirement is that our writing should be interesting.

In the third place Lit is a conscientious effort to give Hamilton a worthy literary magazine. However poorly the editors may succeed, their intentions ought to entitle the magazine to serious consideration. But, as we have said, we do not believe that Lit is failing to measure up to the standard among college literary magazines.

So much for the reasons for looking on Lit with some sympathy. That always helps. But the final point which we would like to suggest is one with which you are all familiar: you can help. There are a number of men in college who write very well, but who have never submitted their efforts to Lit. Perhaps some feel that what they write best, or like to write best, is not proper material for Lit. We cannot ask you with sufficient vigor to submit anything. Of course we make no promises concerning its success. But there are innumerable subjects that have not been tried in Lit. Don't let the shortness or the individuality of your work restrain you—and at least give the editors a chance to see what you like to write.

The recent, short familiar essays that sophomores have been required to write have revealed a great deal of talent. Many of them were very entertaining and showed real gifts of humor. That is a sample. More should try their hand at writing and all of these should, for the sake of Lit, the College, and themselves, submit their bashful efforts to Lit.

How do they get that way?

ASK the man with the big income his "secret of success," and you will generally find that it is some copy-book maxim known to everybody.

"Be sure you are right, then go ahead."

"If anything is in your way, go over it."

"Learn something about everything and everything about something."

Trite! Anybody could give you as good advice. It simply means that success is not a problem of discovering some obscure short-cut. The path is plain enough, but only alertness, energy and self-discipline will push you along it.

All this holds a special force for you because what you do at college will influence what you do afterwards. If you start right, the chances are you will finish right.

You can begin now to earn your place in the high-salaried class. Each honest day's work in laboratory and lecture hall will bring you nearer. It will help you to master the fundamentals of your profession —so that later on you may handle problems more easily and make decisions more quickly and surely.

Then and only then, in proportion as you clear your mind of detail, can you give time and energy to those larger questions of policy in engineering, selling, management and finance which fix the executive's market value.

A COMMUNICATION

[All signed communications received will be printed. However, the Editorial Board is not responible for facts stated or opinions expressed.]

To the Editor of Life:

Life has always been criticised for its advertising section. Most everyone takes a crack at the Business Manager for the way in which he crowds out material for the mere monetary advantages to be had thereby. Few ever think of another side of the problem: could Life fill any more space if the Editor had it?

This is a question which very few think of. Existence on the Hill is not so filled with events (of a news character) that four or five pages, of five columns each—with some five hundred words in each column—can be filled. Take a copy of Life sometime and ask yourself what news has been omitted. And certainly if Life gives all the news that is to be had, there is no real reason why the spare space shouldn't be used for advertising.

But, of course, the question as to whether Life is giving us all the news that is to be had is in some respects open to argument. There may be a great deal of Intercollegiate news that Life is not in touch with. There may be a number of men in college whose opinions on various subjects would be read with interest. Many of the college weeklies run interviews with members of the faculty or the important men in college. Is Life filling its place in these respects? We should hesitate to say.

But there is a question which most should hesitate to answer without careful consideration, and that is the one we suggested first. Is the advertising crowding out the news, or is the advertising filling space left vacant for lack of news? It is a question which the college would do well to consider before it criticizes too freely.

Yours truly,
FRED L. PALMER.

WITH THE CLUBS

Latin

The Latin Club met last Monday evening at the Chi Psi Lodge. Papers were read by J. D. Griffith and R. H. Chastney, that of the former dealing with the life of the Roman emperor, Trajan, and that of the latter with the life and times of Hadrian. A general discussion followed, all the members of the club taking part. It was decided to secure for production on the Hill some moving picture film dealing with a classical subject, preferably Latin. Various pictures have been suggested, especially those produced by Italian companies. It is probable that "The Life of Julius Caesar" or "Cabiria", the celebrated photodrama of Gabriele D'Annunzio, will be shown at Commons sometime in May.

German

The German Club held its semimonthly meeting last Wednesday night at the Chi Psi Lodge. The organization voted not to produce the two German plays it has been rehearsing during the past month. It was decided that outside activities would interfere to such an extent that proper presentation would be impossible. The club is at present studying the drama, "Lilliom," the work of the Hungarian playwright, Franz Molnar.

History

The first meeting of the History Club since the mid-year examinations was held on Friday, March 24 at the Psi Upsilon House. The following officers were elected to serve for the rest of the year: Hinke, '22, President; J. Hamilton, '22, Vice-President; Euler, '23, Secretary- Treasurer. It was proposed to take a field trip to some historic site in the near vicinity some time this spring and Morgan, '22, was appointed to make the necessary plans and submit them to the Club at a later meeting for approval.

A very interesting discussion on History writing since 1500 was held. Comrie, '22, reported on American Historians, J. Davies, '23, read an interesting paper on French History-writing, written by Chase, '23, who was unable to be present, and Hinke, '22, discussed the development of English History-writing. Dr. Hauch gave an illuminating talk on German historians and Dr. Bonham concluded the discussion with the history writers of Italy, Spain and Portugal. It was decided to spend several meetings considering the Rise of the Western Democracies, studying the great South American Republics at one meeting and taking up the lesser South and Central American Republics and the Dominion of Canada at a second meeting.

Carpe Diem

Spring is here! Ass. Coach Kellish may be seen prowling about the campus in the wake of P. Squires and followed by a couple of ass-managers carrying the jumping standards, discus, vaulting pole, etc. Ed is to leave for Geneseo on Saturday next to compete in a triangular contest with the notorious parlor athletes, Arvis Riffle and Raymond Whitaker. Ed has appeared lately in many of the best parlors in Utica and it is expected that he will come through creditably in Saturday's contest. Hank Smith, who has coached Kellish for the past month says, "Never before has Kellish shown so much 'savoir faire' and 'je ne sais quoi', and barring the Spanish tango, he should carry off first honors."

"Passionate Mike" Brown wishes to make his last appearance in these columns. The wedding will not take place for a year at least. Also Mike missed out on getting a letter once last week—and the strain was so great that he sent two specials and a night letter—and then it was the fault of the postoffice.

The first senior job—Howland has a job in the fire department of Canajoharie. He makes the noise for the engines.

Carpe suggests that Spring House Parties be held at the Bluebird, rown by the Ol' West Shore. Think of the wear and tear it would save on the houses. And judging by recent rumors, the place hath a lot of supporters even among the high and mighty, so everybody would feel right at home.

The college sure is degenerating. Take the last car, for instance. A few years ago it was the most amusing and the most popular sport in college. Everyone indulged. And now its nothing but a street car, with only a handful of the steadies on Sun. and Wed. nights. And then there's the Sophomore Class. Once they used to instill the fear of the Lord into the Slimers, wore class hats and sweat shirts and be the class of the college. And now look at them, even to the golf socks.

Here's for a good vacation, may the Musical Clubs not get too oiled, may everybody tell all the fair ones how collegiate they really are, and may everybody get a couple of real sub-slimers lined up. And then we'll all come back and graduate or flunk out or maybe get promoted—and the good old days of Spring are come.

GEORGE SICARD, '06, WILL COACH TENNIS TEAM

The generous offer of George H. Sicard, '06, of Utica, to coach the 1922 tennis team has been most gratefully accepted by the athletic department, as Mr. Sicard is a tennis player of considerable reputation. Besides being highly capable of teaching the finer points of the game, he is intensely interested in all affairs on the Hill.

Mr. Sicard was captain of the tennis team, as well as college champion, during all of his four years here. During this time he also established the enviable record of never having been defeated in an intercollegiate match. In 1907 he was the champion of Western New York in both singles and doubles. In 1919 he won the championship of New Hampshire. In 1918 he won the singles championship of Utica, and repeated the performance in 1921. Paired with Edwin F. Torrey he also won the Utica doubles championhip last year.

With such capable tutelage and the wealth of material that has turned out, the prospects for the tennis team are very promising.

DR. MURRAY SPEAKS

Members of the Y. M. C. A. Bible classes had the opportunity of hearing Rev. J. Lovell Murray speak on Christian Service in a meeting held at Silliman Hall on April 2. Dr. Murray, who is a member of the Executive Council of the Student Volunteer movement, gave a very interesting talk, urging the men present to prepare for some form of Christian work. He pointed out the need for young men in the church today and the great opportunities awaiting them. Dr. Murray was for many years a missionary in India, and he was able to give his audience some first-hand impressions of conditions in that country.

BASEBALL SQUAD PRACTICES

Rochester, Hamilton will find a strong opponent, as the Flower City team has six veterans for its infield. The outfield, however, will be weak as the three fielders were lost through graduation. The Yellow will also have a veteran battery in Capt. Cahill and Sullivan. The probable infield for Rochester will be Wallace at first, Green at the keystone sack, Carhart at short, and Gleason at the hot corner. All of these men are seasoned players and should offer a strong resistance to the Buff and Blue team.

Little is known of the team which Hamilton will put in the field as the coaches have not yet picked the men who are to represent the Buff and Blue on the diamond this year. Due to the short time between the Easter vacation and the opening game, the entire squad will report back on Wednesday, the 19th.
